In 2013, the R.M. of Bjorkdale will be celebrating its Centennial year. Celebrations will be taking place in the Village of Bjorkdale on July 6, 2013.

Commemorative signs have been made and have been put up at various locations within the rural municipality. There has also been a commemorative cookbook put together in honor of the Centennial Celebration with recipes submitted by past and present residents of the rural municipality. The recipe books will be available for purchase at the celebrations.

As more activities are announced, they will be added to the events calendar. Keep checking.
